FROM THE MAYOR OF WALKERVILLE

Women of Walkerville Foundation members Lyn O'Grady, Councillor Jennifer Joshi, Patron Margot Vowles OAM, Mayor Elizabeth Fricker, Rebecca Petrucco, Eastern Adelaide Domestic Violence Service representative Janessa Nobes, October Talk special guest speaker Dr Jane Lomax-Smith and Councillor MaryLou Bishop.

If there is anything this year has taught me, it is to appreciate the little things in life.

From the company of good friends and the cuddle of a new puppy, to the visit from a family member and the joy of seeing new flowers bloom – it is important to practice gratitude for those everyday moments that are so easy to take for granted – because those little things are the things we often end up cherishing the most.

It is this time of year, in particular, that we should take a step back and admire the beautiful, give thanks to our community and look out for those who may not be as fortunate over the festive season.

This Christmas, it would be easy to look at all we are missing – the hug of a loved one or the party with friends. Let us instead be happy that we are keeping them safe and look at all we have to celebrate and all the exciting moments and developments that are yet to come. Maybe, this year, we can provide a gift to a charity or a thank you letter to that special person who has helped us through these past months.

As I reflect on the year that was, I am so proud of our community, my fellow Elected Members and Administration for all we have achieved. We end the year with many improvements and successes compared with where we started, including an e-news service for residents, a successfully completed Levi Park barbecue area, resurfaced blue tennis courts and a revamped Council website. I am also so appreciative for the opportunities we have created to connect with each other – unlike many other areas of our country, which have not been so fortunate. Last month, I had the pleasure of opening the Women of Walkerville Foundation's October Talk with Dr Jane Lomax-Smith (pictured), where guests learnt about the illuminating lives of extraordinary women in history and we raised funds for the Eastern Adelaide Domestic Violence Service.

I was, however, most disappointed that we had to make the difficult decision to cancel the Walkerville Christmas Fair due to a forecast of thunderstorms and heavy rainfall. Despite this, we are hoping to host a community event early next year – stay tuned!

In September, I was asked for comment on a variety of topics in the media. I was invited to speak on ABC Radio about the Town of Walkerville carrying the "highest residential rates" in the State. This stemmed from an article in The Advertiser, which ranked Adelaide Council rates. What this article failed to do was explain how rates are calculated. Simply put, rates are based on property values – and yes, we have high property values – however, we keep our rate in the dollar as one of the lowest in the State. This means that, in terms of rates, we are one of the least expensive Councils to live in metropolitan Adelaide. I know someone in Prospect who pays $4,000 in rates for a property valued at $1.3 million. This would equate to under $3,000 in Walkerville. I also know someone in Port Adelaide Enfield who pays $1,400 for a property valued at $590,000. In Walkerville, that would be $1,300. Council is very conservative when selecting the rate in the dollar each year, as Elected Members are aware of the high property values.

Notwithstanding the commentary that arises regularly in the media about rates and value for money – I can assure you that you are getting top service in the Town of Walkerville. You can see this through the many new park and reserve upgrades – such as Hamilton Reserve – as well as the constant push to green our Town with new trees and the plan to paint a 100m-long bright mural on the wall of Ascot Avenue.

Behind the scenes, Elected Members and Administration are constantly looking for new ways to boost the village character of the Town of Walkerville, while providing residents with excellent events and infrastructure. I truly believe this is one of the most wonderful places to live and I look forward to seeing what we can achieve in 2022.

Author Melody Beattie once wrote "The new year stands before us, like a chapter in a book, waiting to be written". As January looms upon us, signalling the first blank page of a 365-page book... let's write a good one.

I'll happily raise a glass of Christmas cheer to that!

Wishing everyone in the Town of Walkerville a Christmas full of great memories and a New Year full of great promise.

Elizabeth Fricker

Works about Town

Ready, set, play!

The much anticipated Hamilton Reserve (formally Stewart Avenue Park) Rejuvenation Project is almost completed.

Nature play equipment, outdoor picnic areas with shelters, barbecues and a cycling track have come to full fruition at the Vale Park reserve. Council expects the park to be open to the community from December 2021.

The majority of the site is covered by a large open irrigated green space with a unique labyrinth trail to decipher a hidden code throughout the site. It also includes a drinking fountain and a toilet.

Council acknowledges the Government of South Australia for its contribution of $319,825 towards the project as part of the 2020/21 Open Space and Places for People Grant Program.

Serving up tennis court upgrades

New blue tennis courts are in full swing at Willow Bend, Levi Park and Gilbert Street as part of a resurfacing project.

Council opened the courts to the community last month after the completion of the upgrade, which included new acrylic surfaces to meet current play standards, netting and line marking, as well as a basketball ring for Willow Bend and Levi Park.

Willow Bend courts before and after resurfacing works.

Marking heritage and history

New sign posts have been installed throughout the Township to mark locations of heritage, cultural and environmental significance. The aim of the Heritage Trail Markers is to enhance the experience and widen the knowledge of both residents and visitors alike when walking through the Township. Council's Strategic Planning and Development Policy Committee considered appropriate locations for each of the markers based on both heritage points of interest and geographical locations for the walking network in the Township.

Scanning the QR code on these markers will direct you to Council's website where you can navigate through the historic importance of these sites and learn about our unique local heritage.

The locations of these Heritage Markers are:

- Walkerville Wesleyan Cemetery
- Walkerville Lawn Tennis Club
- St Andrews Anglican Church
- Gilberton Swing Bridge
- Willow Bend Reserve
- Walkerville Oval
- Levi Caravan Park

COUNCIL NEWS

Christmas and New Year operating hours

Council offices and library will be closed to the public from 12pm on Friday 24 December 2021 and reopened at 9am on Tuesday 4 January 2022. Throughout the Christmas and New Year closure, Council's telephone contact is 8342 7100, which connects to a 24-hour service provider.

Hello new citizens

A sea of smiling faces could be seen among our residents as they officially became Australian citizens at a special ceremony in September.

From the Philippines and China to Egypt and Poland – a wonderful diversity of global representation was on show as we welcomed these new Australian citizens to our community.

Mayor Elizabeth Fricker conferred citizenship on 19 residents from 11 different countries.

Vale Park realignment

Council considered the consultation report on the potential realignment or renaming of Vale Park in October. At its Ordinary Meeting on Monday 18 October 2021, Council resolved to write to the Surveyor-General to seek his preliminary feedback on the findings of Council's recent public consultation. The Surveyor-General will consider the results and make a decision on whether to proceed with the process. Council undertook consultation with ratepayers, following a Motion without Notice from an Elected Member, seeking feedback from the community to ascertain if there was interest in the realignment or renaming of Vale Park to create clearer boundary lines. As part of consultation, 1,682 responses were received. Of the total submissions received, 62% of the Township were in support of some form of boundary realignment/renaming. When confined to Vale Park ratepayers only, 82% were in favour of some change.

For more information and to view the full consultation report, please visit <https://bit.ly/3jw1FNe>

Where to park in Walkerville?

A new interactive parking map of the Township is now available on Council's website.

The map utilises geospatial data and analytics software ESRI to map the available parking around the Township. Details on the type of parking (timed, restricted or disability parking) on Council land are mapped, providing information such as the approximate number of spaces, location and a Google street view link.

The map can be viewed on our parking webpage here: www.walkerville.sa.gov.au/regulatory/parking

The map will be updated and edited as required to reflect new parking restrictions or changes to existing parking.

Buckingham Arms rezoning

1 Walkerville Terrace, Gilberton Code Amendment

What land is impacted?

The land proposed to be rezoned comprises 11 allotments collectively known as 1 Walkerville Terrace, Gilberton, as shown in the above photograph. The land has frontages to Walkerville Terrace to the east and Northcote Terrace to the west. The surrounding properties are zoned Established Neighbourhood and Local Activity Centre Zone.

What is being proposed?

The landowners, Pierce Matthews Pty Ltd, Buckingham Arms Hotel Pty Ltd, GBS Café Pty Ltd and Seymews Nominees Pty Ltd are undertaking a Code Amendment to rezone the land for residential and mixed-use purposes.

What is the current zone?

The land is currently in the Local Activity Centre Zone under the Planning and Design Code, which allows mixed-use commercial and residential development up to three storeys.

What zone is proposed?

The Code Amendment proposes to rezone the land to Urban Corridor (Living). This zone is intended for medium density housing with complementary non-residential uses such as shops, consulting rooms and offices. The zone allows for a range of building heights, depending on the local context.

The proposed Code Amendment intends to allow buildings of between three and six levels. A maximum building height TNV (technical and numeric variation) is proposed of six levels (24.5 metres). The zone allows for this height to be increased where the development delivers specific and measurable performance outcomes.

When are submissions due? Consultation closes 5pm on Friday 10 December 2021.

Where can I speak with someone to get further information?

You can call Holmes Dyer during the engagement period on (08) 7231 1889, 8.30am – 5.30pm, Monday to Friday.

Where can I view the proposed Code Amendment?

You can inspect the details of the Code Amendment on the Plan SA website at: plan.sa.gov.au/have_your_say/general_consultations

How can I have a say?

You can make a submission on the proposed Code Amendment by:

- Visiting the Plan SA website at plan.sa.gov.au/have_your_say/general_consultations
- Emailing engagement@holmesdyer.com.au – subject line “1 Walkerville Terrace, Gilberton Code Amendment”
- Writing via post to Holmes Dyer Pty Ltd, Level 3, 15 Featherstone Place, Adelaide SA 5000 – subject line “1 Walkerville Terrace, Gilberton Code Amendment”

Thank you from WOW

Women of Walkerville Foundation members wish to thank those who recently donated clothing, toys and other items as part of a callout to help domestic violence victims. The donations have been provided to the Eastern Adelaide Domestic Violence Service (EADVS). At the October Talk, members also presented a $2,500 cheque to EADVS as well. Thank you also to all attendees of WoW Foundation events this year.

“Wishing you peace & happiness this Christmas and throughout the year.”

Waterproofing our Town with Jeff Tate

From the bright green grass of Mary P Harris Reserve to the improved quality of the Walkerville Oval playing field – residents have noticed our parks and gardens looking greener, healthier and better than ever. We thought it was a great opportunity to introduce the new Chairperson of the subsidiary that is playing a key role in the appearance of our open spaces – ERA Water.

The ERA Water project is a long-term regional scheme designed to provide an alternative water source to SA Water's potable water system to irrigate reserves, parks and playing ovals on the eastern side of Adelaide for the benefit of local Councils and their communities.

We sat down with local Gilberton resident Jeff Tate, who was appointed as Chairperson of the subsidiary in July.

Why did you decide to apply for the position of ERA Water Chairperson?

I saw the position on LinkedIn. It took me back to the millennium drought when the State Government's Water for Good plan included the concept of waterproofing Adelaide. From this came Water Proofing the South – which I was familiar with as the City of Onkaparinga CEO at the time – as well as Water Proofing the East and similar plans for the western and northern suburbs of Adelaide. ERA Water was born out of this idea. I had experience in regards to the water proofing concept and some of my early consulting projects were in relation to stormwater management – not in a technical sense, but in a governance and policy sense.

It's the little bits of my past experience that sparked an interest and inspired me to apply for the role.

How would you describe the goals of ERA Water and how does it aim to achieve these goals?

Water management is a mosaic with many pieces that make up the puzzle – and water security is a big part of the overall picture. There is growing policy interest in a more integrated approach to urban water management involving both potable (mains water) and non-potable sources (harvested stormwater and sewer mining).

The eastern suburbs are known for their beautiful open spaces and streetscapes. This scheme is an environmental initiative that aims to keep our green suburbs leafy green. It really is a type of insurance to reduce risks of the impacts of drought on open spaces and streetscapes, while reducing the demand for water from the River Murray and stopping polluted stormwater from entering Gulf St Vincent.

What do you see as the greatest challenge for ERA Water?

A scheme like this has risks attached to it because you are dealing with underground infrastructure and water stored in the aquifer, which occurs following natural filtration through a wetland, bio-filters at Felixstow and UV light treatment to remove the bacteria E. coli. How much water goes and stays in the aquifer to withdraw in summer for irrigation will always remain a question based on rain patterns.

The best thing is steady rainfall over winter and spring and ideally, some in summer as well.

What do you see as the greatest strength of ERA Water?

The security around the ability to continue to water parks and gardens in a drought. The water for Adelaide comes from the River Murray and I remember years ago people saying – “Oh we'll never have a water supply problem with the River Murray”, and then came the millennium drought. As the water from the scheme is ours, we have control of it and it increases our water security.

Jeff Tate was the City of Onkaparinga CEO for more than 14 years until 2011, City of Marion CEO for four years and former LGA Deputy CEO. He also chairs the SA Government's Coast Protection Board and was a part-time Commissioner for the SA Productivity Commission in 2019 for an inquiry into Local Government costs and efficiency. He currently owns a consulting business where he has worked with both State and Local Governments across SA, NSW, QLD and Victoria on more than 120 projects.

Author talk with Deb and Ron Kandelaars

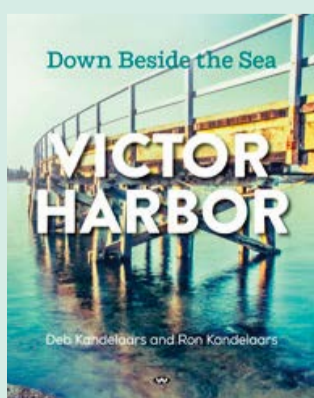

It is a view imprinted on the retina of most South Australians – that majestic vista as you drive into Victor Harbor. This is a place of lazy summer holidays, rides on the horse-drawn tram, strolls around Granite Island with an ice cream, fish and chips on the lawn – a happy place to relax.

Join Deb and Ron Kandelaars as they talk about how the book came to be and share some of the stories and photos they gathered along the way. Signed books will be available for sale on the night.
